Towards an EU Framework for Digital Building Logbooks

All data, information and documents for a building in one place

A dynamic tool that keeps a record of all events in the life of a building

Transparency, trust, informed decision-making and exchange of information

A secure tool that allows data owners to have control over them

BIM in Public Procurement

BIM is not obligatory, but it is suggested in the EU Directive for Public Procurement in 2014

For public works contracts and design contests, Member States may require the use of specific electronic tools, such as of building information electronic modelling tools or similar.

The Commission is encouraging the use of BIM through “soft-policy” and close collaboration with the EU BIM Task Group

Handbook for the introduction of BIM in Public Procurement available at 21 languages

Training of 250 public procurers in BIM

Ad-hoc support to 6 MS through Structural Reform Funds

EU Methodology for Cost Benefit Analysis for the use of BIM in individual projects

>30%

From the money spend in construction are public

250.000

public authorities in the EU procure for construction

BIM becomes the norm for public procurement in construction.

BIM facilitates the digitalization of permits and other administrative procedures, as well as different construction operations, such as renovation.
