Spotlight on October 10th: Arch. Anna Gagliardi

We are honored to welcome Arch. Anna Gagliardi, Project Manager, Building & Urban Planning Task Force, Lombardy Region, as the opening speaker for the final day of Sustainable Places 2025, Friday, October 10th.

Her intervention will focus on the pivotal role that energy communities can play in creating virtuous pathways toward the decarbonization of entire neighborhoods and even the development of Positive Energy Districts.

By expanding the scale from individual buildings to entire districts, the involvement of public administrations becomes essential to guide and support this transformation, ensuring that all operators have the necessary expertise and resources.

Exhibiting - The Building Digital Twin Association (BDTA)

Coming off the recent success of the Building Digital Twin International Conference (BDTIC), 2025 marks a big year for the BDTA as it advances its mission towards the development of an open and ethical ecosystem for the full implementation of Building Digital Twin Environments across all the stakeholders in Real State and Infrastructure Assets.

We look forward to hearing about the Kaunas Declaration and the current progress in standardization activities.

The BDTA is also open to new memberships. They'll be on site to answer questions and collect interest.

☀️ A Warm Welcome to Our Partners

Every year, Sustainable Places brings together organizations that share a common vision: accelerating the transition to greener, smarter, more livable cities.

As we highlighted in our previous update, this edition is no different, and we're excited to introduce our newest sponsors and partners.

Arcadis

A global design and consultancy leader, Arcadis delivers sustainable solutions for natural and built environments. From mobility systems to energy transition strategies, they bring expertise that combines data, technology, and deep sector knowledge.

Glad to have them on board as Thematic Track Partner!

BUILD UP

The European portal for energy efficiency and renewable energy in buildings

Build Up

Build Up is the European Commission's reference portal on energy efficiency in buildings – a hub where policies, best practices, and innovations converge to create a shared European movement. Their mission is to ensure that knowledge circulates effectively among professionals and decision-makers, turning scattered initiatives into a shared European movement.

Pleased to have them join us!

Duezerocinquezero

An innovation lab specialized in governance, sustainability, and territorial transformation, Duezerocinquezero works with communities and institutions to design pathways aligned with ecological transition. Their presence underscores the importance of local experimentation and co-design in achieving national and European goals.

It's fantastic to have them as a Promotional Partner!

Edera

Edera, Italy's first innovation hub entirely dedicated to urban regeneration, is partnering with Sustainable Place and will deliver a keynote during the event.

By fostering cooperation among institutions, companies, professionals, and local communities, Edera accelerates the transformation of cities into inclusive, sustainable, and resilient places.

Honored to have them with us!

Italian PropTech Network

The Italian PropTech Network is a vibrant ecosystem of startups, companies, and institutions working at the intersection of real estate and technology. By fostering digital transformation and sustainable growth, it showcases how innovation in the property sector can unlock smarter and more resilient urban spaces.

Pleased to have you join us as Promotional Partner!

New Polis

More than a media outlet, New Polis is a space for cultural reflection and research. By promoting debate on politics, sustainability, and society, it challenges us to rethink the narratives that shape the urban transition and encourages a more informed, participatory approach.

Excited to work together!

The European House Ambrosetti

Renowned as one of Europe's leading think tanks, The European House – Ambrosetti (TEHA) connects research, business, and policy to provide strategic insights. As a supporter of SP25, they will participate in the Opening and the Data Center sessions, bridging high-level vision with actionable strategies to advance sustainability at scale.

We're excited to have them with us!

PPAN

PPAN is a communication agency with a strong focus on architecture, urban planning, and sustainability. By giving visibility to ideas, people, and projects, PPAN ensures that the conversations happening at Sustainable Place reach a broader audience and inspire change well beyond the event itself.

Welcome them as our Italian Media Partner!

 Posters, Flyers, and Leaflets – We Can't Wait to See Them!

We're thrilled about everything you'll be bringing to Sustainable Places!

Posters, flyers, leaflets, brochures, and other promotional items are all welcome. We've prepared a dedicated exhibition area where your materials will be carefully organized and attractively displayed for attendees to enjoy.

Roll-Up Banner Printing Service

Prefer not to travel with your roll-up banner? A nearby Milan copy shop can print it for you.

Deadline is approaching, so please send your request and graphic file by 1st October, including your billing details.

How to Proceed:

Send an email to info@reprorex.it with the subject line: "Roll Up Evento Sustainable Places" and your billing details and kindly CC sustainableplaces@r2msolution.com

● Making the Most of Sustainable Places: Registrations

Registrations: Now that proposals are submitted, let's get registered. We still have approximately 80 speakers not yet signed up in Humantix. That means we cannot send you information, prepare badgers, and so on. Time to get that done.

Important for the three-day event: when you arrive, please have your ticket ready so we can give you your badge quickly.

Google Survey: Registrants will soon receive a google survey to understand on what days you will be present and in which activities you will participate.

That helps us get numbers right and allows us to understand how many local regional authorities and industrial stakeholders can be invited into the auditorium sessions so that we do not exceed capacity. Please do take a couple minutes to fill this out!

✨ A special evening visit ✨

As the first day of Sustainable Places 2025 comes to a close, we invite you to join a special evening tour that brings together art, history, and panoramic views. Wander through centuries-old museums, enjoy breathtaking city vistas, and experience the cultural heartbeat of the city in a unique, guided experience.

Below, you'll find all the practical info:

The experience will last about 90 minutes.

All guests will start and finish together, but during the visit they will be divided into smaller groups, each accompanied by a guide. The groups will rotate through the different areas of the museum:

Museum of Ancient Art – approx. 45 minutes

Museum of the Pietà – approx. 20 minutes

Panoramic Battlements – approx. 20 minutes

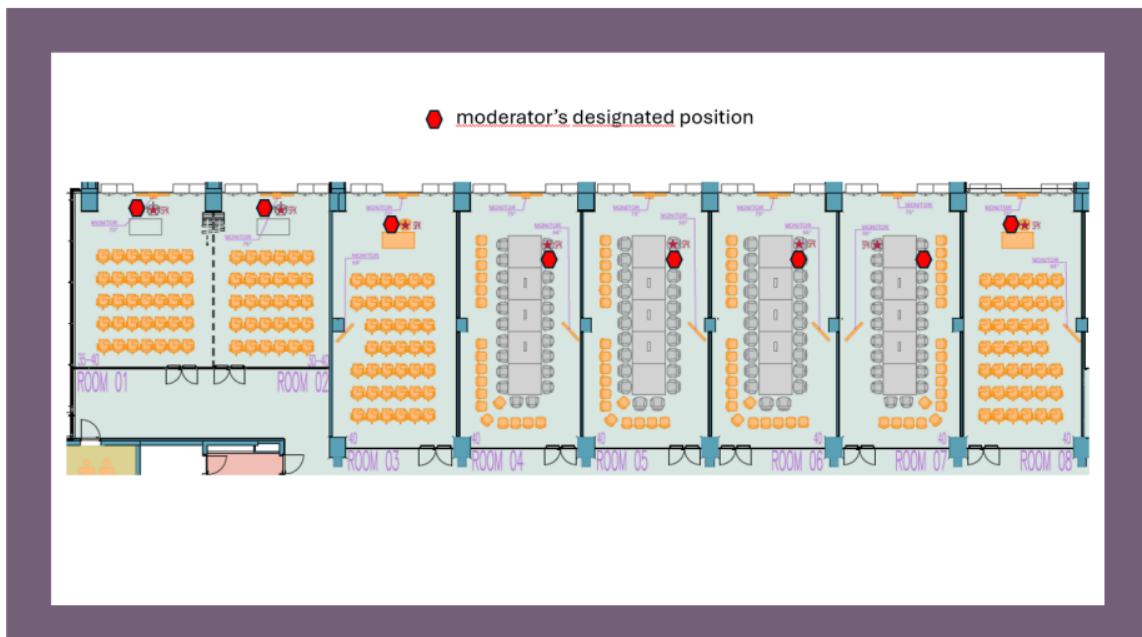

The museum is just 15 minutes away on the red metro line (from Lotto to Cadorna), making it very easy to reach!

Please, note that the transportation is self-arranged.

● Workshop Rooms

Below is a first look at how the rooms will be setup. That can help workshop planning.

✨ Moderator Rehearsals

We'll have support on site but workshop moderators have the role of ensuring that presentations are available and that workshop sessions are recorded in the online platform (push record).

We'll soon be in touch to ensure you understand the author instructions!

◆ Workshop Boosts

We will again support the extension of online viewership to workshops who want to invite project partners or online viewers (without registering / paying an online registration fee as a virtual speaker). For interested workshops, please contact us.

Thank you for your cooperation!
